FERRARA
PODCAST

Phil Tag, who New York Magazine has dubbed "Hands-down hilarious" is a polished comedy veteran, performing stand up for over twenty years. Currently he can be heard each week as a regular cast member on The Adam Ferrara Podcast, which is a breakout hit and considered a "must listen" by Hidden Remote.

Tag's observational, sarcastic and quick-witted humor consistently earns him rave reviews by audiences worldwide. He's a headliner in both Las Vegas and Atlantic City, an A-list entertainer for the cruising industry, and a staple in the corporate market due to his natural ability to tailor material for any event or occasion.

As a Comedian and Actor, Tag has made numerous television appearances throughout his career including Showtime, Comedy Central, ER, and The Tonight Show, to which he's made multiple stand up appearances. He was also the final "Comedy Champion" on the popular show Star Search, ultimately retaining the title for the rest of time.

As a writer, Tag's resume includes Saturday Night Live, The Late Show with David Letterman, and The People's Choice Awards, where he wrote and produced for host Kevin James. He also enjoys great success as a Hollywood screenwriter, having sold an original comedy screenplay to 20th Century Fox, as well as contributing to such comedy film scripts as Bruce Almighty, and Monster House.

Phil's greatest appreciation though is reserved for his audiences. "Without you" he notes, "I'd just be a guy on stage talking to myself."
